Recognized Student Organization Food Service Guidelines

Public Open events that allow participation by anyone involving the service of food by a University recognized organization must be in compliance with the regulations of Benton County Environmental Health Division, OSU and the State of Oregon. The Community and Cultural Food Program Advisor in the Student Events & Activities Center can advise any recognized University organization of these regulations. The following is an outline to assist student groups in planning and preparing a safe and successful food event.

1. The organization can do preparation/production under the following conditions:
   a. All food events must be reported through the Student Events & Activities Student organization data base a minimum of four weeks prior to the event.
   b. Food products must be purchased at a licensed food purveyor.
   c. All items that require production (mixing, slicing, chopping, or cooking) must be prepared in an approved licensed kitchen facility. Cold and hot storage capabilities, limited production equipment, the menu and the ability to maintain sanitation of the area should be taken into consideration in determining if self-production is an option. Student Events & Activities manages the MU East Kitchen as a resource for student organizations interested in doing self-production. This is the only campus resource dedicated to student use.
